Sidebar

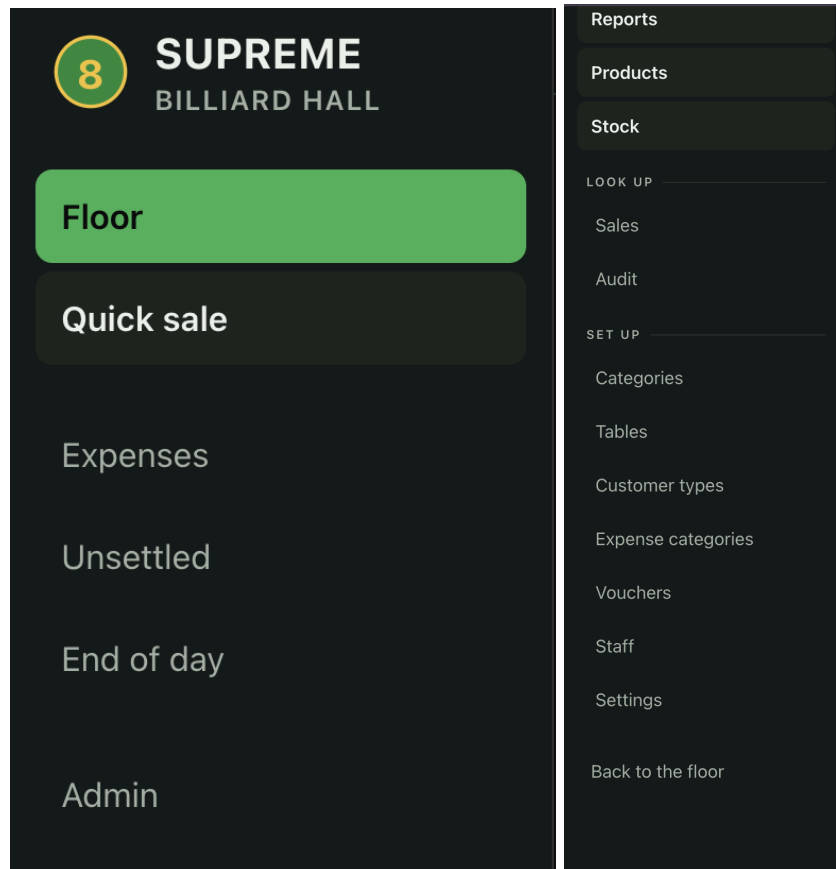

- Sidebar shouldn't be scrollable as much as possible make it fill the viewport
- Make the buttons consistent, why are there 4 bold buttons up top?

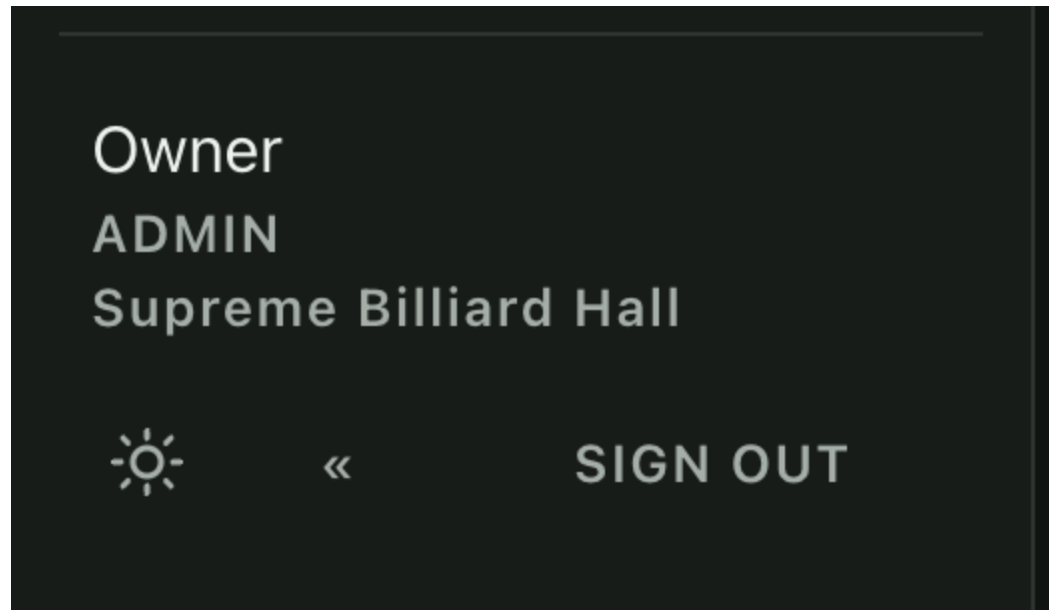

- Suggestion to put the min/max up top (beside the logo)

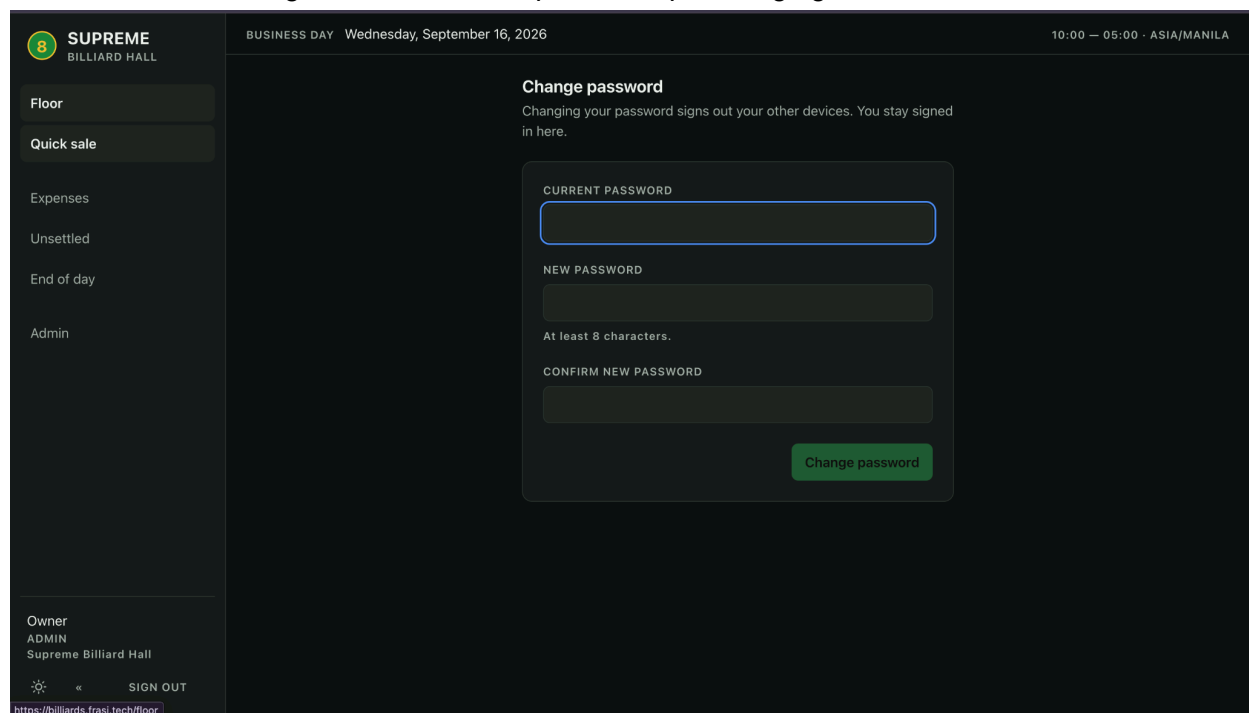

- Instead of the admin and floor switch in the sidebar as a button. Turn it into a toggle

- When you move the min max up top. Put the sign out in the admin/change password page and put the toggle beside the light/darkmode

- I find it irritating that the sidebar options keeps changing

Dashboard

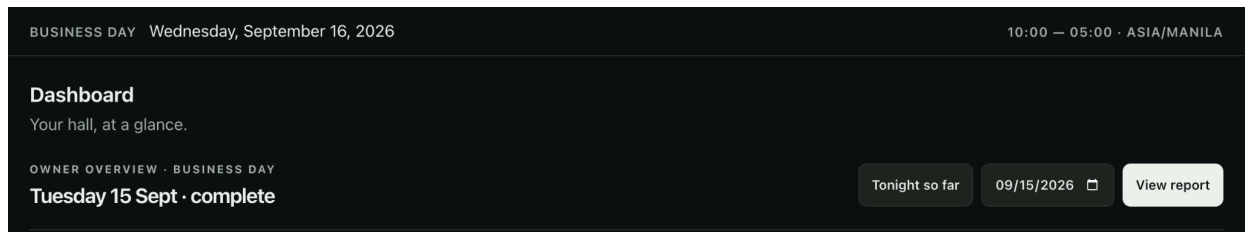

- This is confusing. The header says business day sept 16 but main heading is saying business day for sept 15. Dashboard analytics should be in real time/matches the date today unless stated otherwise
 - Suggestion: remove the header entirely (rationale: they know their business days anw)

■ New layout would be:

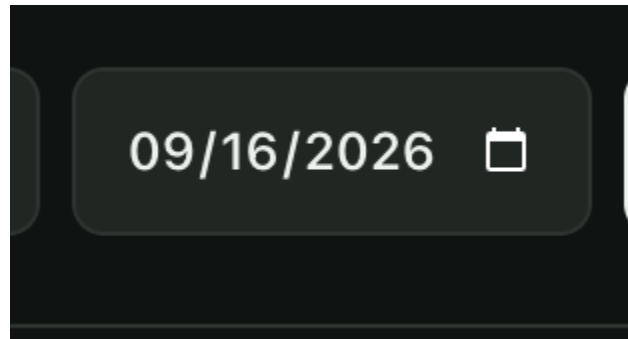

- Dashboard

[date picker]

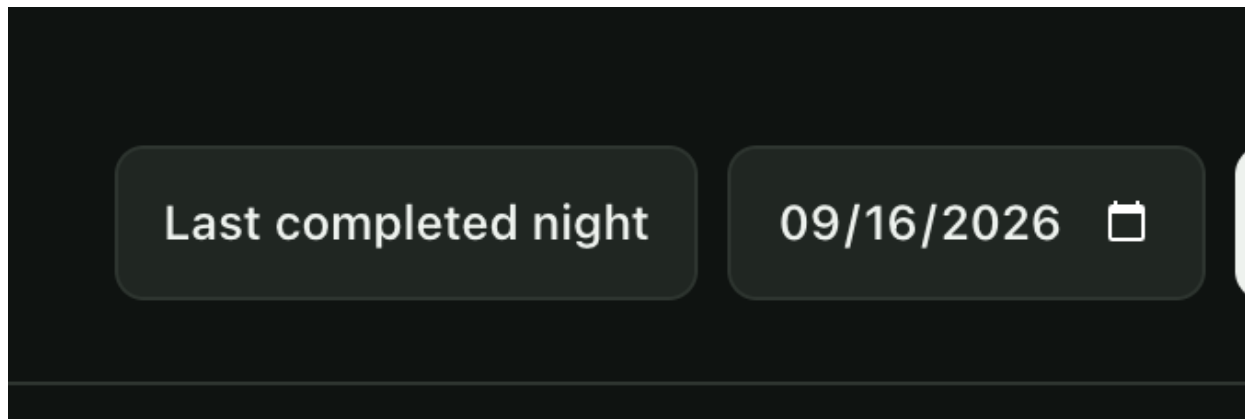

Tuesday, 15 Sept

- Make this whole thing a date picker

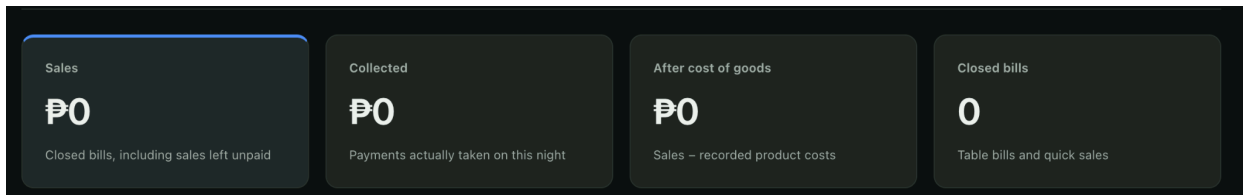

- Not a fan of the last completed night vs tonight so far.

- If you want easy access to yesterday, add arrows to the datepicker. Sample:

< Aug, 2025 >

- Ugly ass claude component. Choose between stroke on all four sides or fill the container

- Also ugly. If the goal here is to prompt them to save billed out tables or to close for a day, put it in a banner w CTA

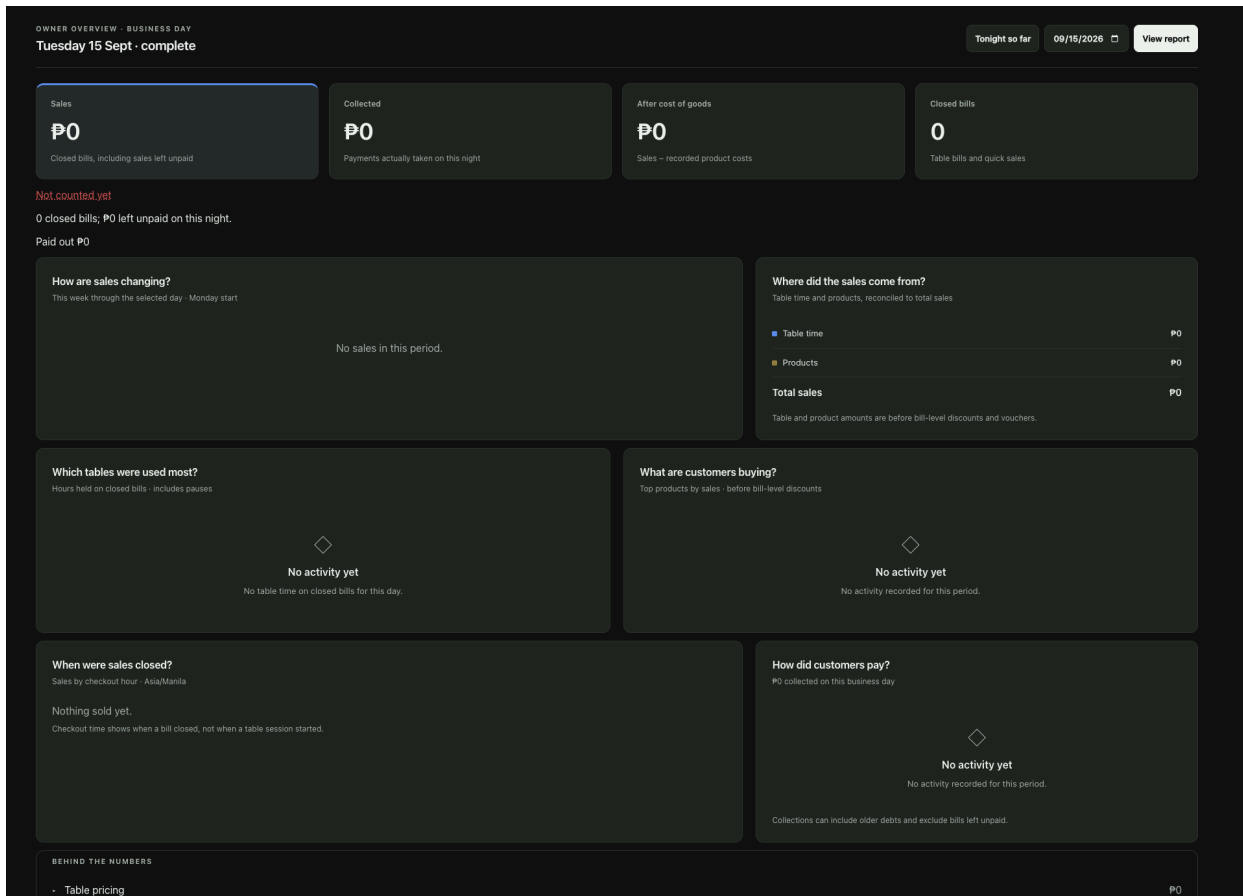

Not counted yet

0 closed bills; ₱0 left unpaid on this night.

Paid out ₱0

How are sales changing?

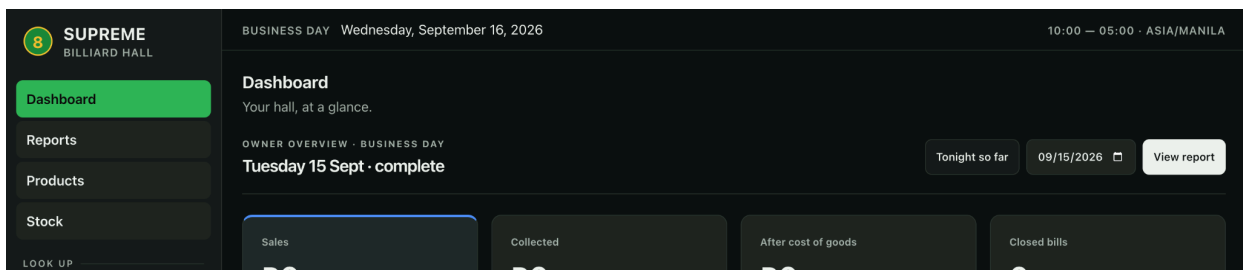

- WHY ARE THE CONTAINER SIZES DIFFERENT EACH TIME!!!! Stick to 60/40 or 50/50.

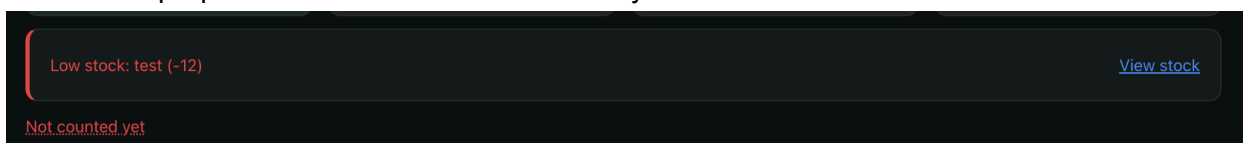

- Can we just put this in an info icon near the header?

• How these numbers are worked out

- Whats the purpose of the emphasis on the view report in the dashboard when theres a report tab in the sidebar?

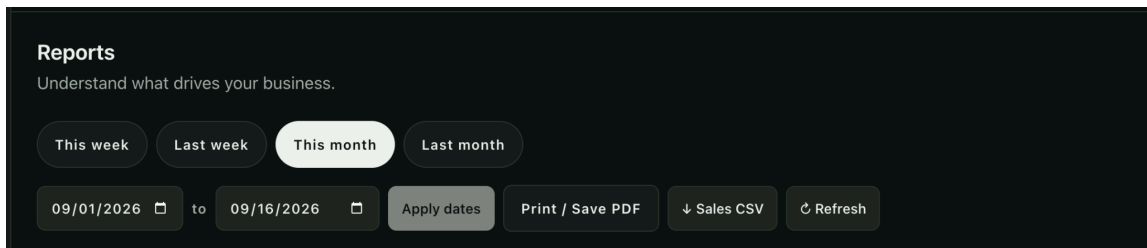

- Use proper cta and banners/text heirarchy

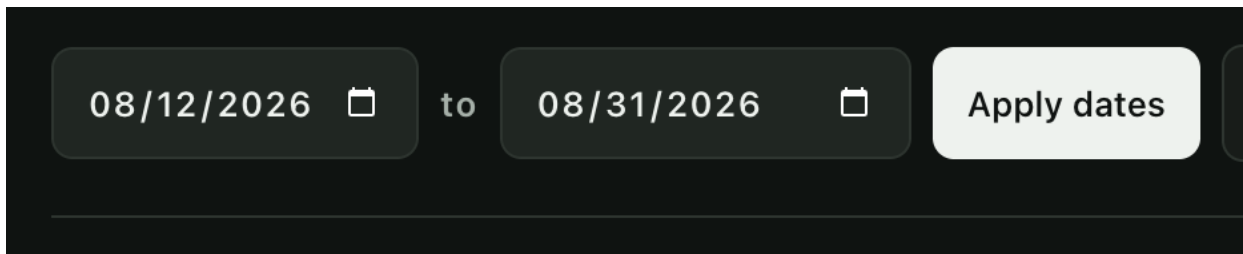

Reports

- Why are the ctas bigger that the header?

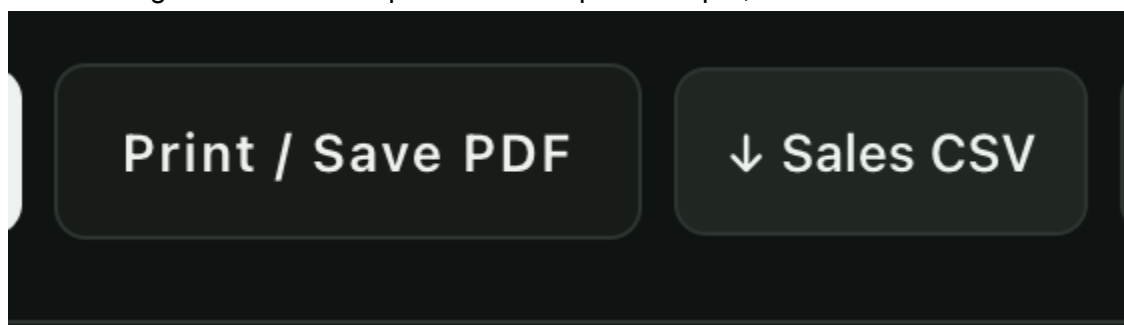

- Ugly ass. Make it auto apply

- Use date range picker!

- Merge this into one export button. Export > as pdf, as csv

- Use pagination ffs.
 - Suggestion: instead of making the headers a link, make the row clickable and add a chevron arrow

Changing a rate opens a new rate period. It never edits the old one, so a bill from last month keeps the rate it was charged at.
